IMBOLC PROGRAMME

EANÁIR – MÁRTA | JANUARY – MARCH

Focal ón Stiúrthóir

Word from the Director

Go luath i mí Feabhra chífidh cuairteoirí ar an Cheathrú Ghaeltachta réad suntasach gorm ar an bhealach isteach chun na Cultúrlainne a chuirfeadh peireascóp ar fhomhuireán i gcuimhne duit. Júcbhosca filíochta atá ann agus beidh sé chugainn tráth a mbeidh aird an phobail ar Bhríd, éarlamh Críostaí agus bandia na filíochta in Éirinn. Tá ceiliúradh á dhéanamh againn ar dhánta, rainn agus véarsaí le filí as fud fad na tíre mar chuid de thionscnamh i gcomhar le Quotidian, eagras a chuireann an litríocht chun cinn i spásanna poiblí.

Dírigh do ghuthán ar na cóid QR ar an júcbhosca go gcluinfidh tú taifid de na meadarachtaí agus rímeanna, nó brúigh ar an chnaipe leis na véarsaí a fhí isteach le fuaimdhreach Bhóthar na bhFál. Tá scór file páirteach sa togra agus beidh siompóisiam lae againn dóibh siúd ar suim leo tuilleadh a fhoghlaim faoi ealaín na filíochta.

Beidh saothar le ceathrar físealaíontóirí le feiceáil i nDánlann Dillon agus sna Ballaí Bána idir seo agus deireadh mhí Aibreáin bunaithe ar théamaí na féiniúlachta cultúrtha agus cearta.

Tá seoda gleoite d'imeachtaí againn fosta don aos óg, go háirithe le linn Fhéile Pháistí Bhéal Feirste i mí an Mhárta a bhíonn á heagrú ag Young At Art. Beidh An Scéaltacht ann le Laureate na nÓg, Áine Ní Ghlinn, agus Máire Zepf, agus beimid ag racáil le Branar a thiocfaidh chugainn an bealach ar fad as Gaillimh.

Beidh scoth an cheoil againn le Clann Mhic Corraidh as Béal Feirste – grúpa den scoth a bhfuil tóir mhór ag a leantóirí iomadúla orthu.

Táimid thar a bheith buíoch as a dtacaíocht leanúnach dár bpríomh-mhaoinitheoir, an Chomhairle Ealaíon, agus d'Fhoras na Gaeilge, Comhairle Cathrach Bhéal Feirste, Ciste Infheistíochta na Gaeilge, Ciste Oidhreachta an Chrannchuir Náisiúnta agus an Roinn Pobal.

From early February, visitors to the Gaeltacht Quarter will notice a strange, blue, periscope-like object near the door of An Chultúrlann. We're installing a poetry jukebox right around the time our thoughts turn to Brigid, matron saint of Ireland for Christians and goddess of poetry for our ancestors. We're celebrating verses, stanzas and rhymes with work by twenty poets from all over Ireland in partnership with Quotidian – Word on the Street, an organisation that promotes literature in public spaces. Point your phone at the QR codes on the jukebox to trigger audio recordings full of lyrical metre, or simply push the button to allow the poems to weave their way into the Falls Road soundscape. You may also wish to join us for a day long symposium at the end of February and learn more about the art of poetry.
Between now and the end of April, work by four visual artists on the themes of cultural identity and rights will be exhibited in Dánlann Dillon and Na Ballaí Bána, and our young people can look forward to some wonderful events, especially during Young At Art's Belfast Children's Festival. Laureate na nÓg, Áine Ní Ghlinn, and Máire Zepf, will visit for a storytelling session, and Branar will bring their magical brand of children's theatre to the Cultúrlann in March.
We are thrilled to be hosting St Patrick's Day concert with one of Ireland's most talented musical families – Belfast's own Clann Mhic Corraidh from Andersonstown.
As always, we extend our deep gratitude for their ongoing support to our principal funder, the Arts Council of Northern Ireland, as well as Foras na Gaeilge, Belfast City Council, Ciste Infheistíochta na Gaeilge, The National Lottery Heritage Fund and the Department for Communities.

Teachtaireacht ónár bpríomh-mhaoinitheoir

Message from our principal funder

Baineann Imbolc le timthriall na ráithí, geimhreadh go hearrach, beatha úr á saolú, tús nua agus dóchas as an úire. Níor mhiste beagán dearfachta san am i láthair, creidim! Ní nach ionadh, mar sin de, go bhfuil a oiread sin daoine ag casadh i dtreo na n-ealaíon ar na mallaibh mar ábhar só, siamsa agus spreagtha. Gach uair dá dtógann ealaíontóir scuab, dá gcuireann scríbhneoir peann le páipéar nó dá dtéann ceoltóir nó aisteoir ar ardán, saolaítear rud éigin úr. Rud éigin a ardaíonn ár meanma agus a chruthaíonn domhan níos gile, suimiúla, spreagúla, daite. Rud éigin cumhachtach ina gceiliúrtar an saol agus is féidir a chomhroinnt le cách. Nó lena rá ar dhóigh eile: fáilte go Clár na Bliana Úire sa Chultúrlann! Mar phríomh-mhaoinitheoir trínár gciste Crannchur Náisiúnta, tá an Chomhairle Ealaíon bródúil as an tacaíocht a thugtar don Chultúrlann de réir mar a leanann sí d'eispéiris ealaíne iontacha, spreagúla a chur ar fáil do gach duine.

Róisín McDonough,
Príomhfheidhmeannach,
Comhairle Ealaíon Thuaisceart Éireann

Imbolc and the turning of the seasons, from winter to spring, is associated with the first stirrings of new life, of new beginnings and renewed hope. I think we could all do with a dose of positivity right now, couldn't we! It shouldn't come as a surprise, then, that so many more people have been turning to the arts in recent times, as a source of comfort, entertainment and inspiration. Every time an artist lifts a paintbrush, a writer puts pen to paper, a singer performs or an actor takes to the stage, something new is created and given life. Something that lifts us and makes our world a brighter, more interesting, engaging and colourful place. Something empowering, that celebrates life and that everyone can share. Or to put this another way: welcome to Cultúrlann's New Year programme!

As the principal funder through our National Lottery funds, the Arts Council is proud to support the Cultúrlann as it continues to bring everyone great, uplifting, arts experiences.plifting, arts experiences.

Roisín McDonough, Chief Executive, Arts Council of Northern Ireland

YOUNG at ART

Rocking Rhymes

le Branar

Aois | Age: 2+

Fad | Duration: 45 nóiméad

Ar jiveáil Miss Muffet timpeall a tuffet? An raibh Jack agus Jill ag bopáil leo suas an chnoc? An fonn funcaí a chuir an cliabhán a luascadh? Is seó ceoil é Rockin' Rhymes dóibh siúd idir 2 agus 102 bliain d'aois a bhfuil dúil acu sa cheol. Is aistear racanróil é seo curtha i láthair ag cúigear ceoltóirí a dhéanann léamh úrnua ar rainn do pháistí. Cruthaithe go speisialta do lucht féachana óg ó dhá bhliain d'aois ar aghaidh, is léiriú draíochta ceoil é seo a dhéanann athshamhlú ar rannta páistí ar nós Roc a Babaí agus Réaltóg, Réaltóg le meascán de na gormacha, rac-cheol agus snagcheol agus scéalaíocht Bhranair.
Le léaráidí beochana a bhuí leis an ealaíontóir Maeve Clancy, cuirfidh an ghig ghalánta seo gach duine idir óg agus aosta ag damhsa.

YOUNG at ART

Did little Miss Muffet jive around her tuffet? Were Jack and Jill bopping up that hill? Was it a funky beat that made the cradle really rock? Rockin' Rhymes is a music show for music lovers aged 2 to 102.

It is a rock-n-roll adventure, performed by a band of 5 musicians, featuring nursery rhymes as you've never heard them before. Created specifically for early year audiences aged 2 years and upwards, this is a captivating musical performance, reimagining well-loved nursery rhymes such as Rock-a-Bye Baby and Twinkle Twinkle with bluesy, rock and jazz twists while blending it with Branar's signature storytelling style.

Accompanied by animated illustrations by artist Maeve Clancy, this feel-good live music gig will have both children and adults alike jiving to the beat of these nursery rhyme classics.

"Branar also turns to music for inspiration in its new show Rockin' Rhymes, which sees a five-piece band bring subversive life to familiar nursery rhymes. Featuring sassy strings, percussive panache and a score that will have you jiving in your seat, this is a lively show that will please family audiences of all generations."

An Chéad Bhean

The First Woman le hEimear NicRoibeaird

Tá lúcháir ar Eimear Nc Roibeaird a céad taispeántas aonarach a léiriú i nDánlann Gerard Dillon dar teideal An Chéad Bhean | The First Woman. Insíonn An Chéad Bhean scéal bhantracht na hÉireann tríd an phéintéireacht agus saothar scríofa bunaithe ar phearsa na Caillí. Tagann an Chailleach aníos i saíocht agus oidhreacht na hÉireann. Is carachtar í an Chailleach atá bunaithe ar íomhánna urchóideacha a bhfuil cúmhacht dhochreidte acu nach raibh faoi smacht an Naisiúnachais ná na Críostaíochta. Sa taispeántas seo, léireofar í mar Aoife "damanta," Ceasair dána, Mór-Ríoghain scáfar agus Sadhbh ghaisciúil.
Ag sníomh na finscéalaíochta agus na réadúlachta, is saothar meallacach é an taispeántas scéalaíochta seo atá á fhorbairt ag Eimear le 18 mí anuas. Tá sí faoi anáil a hoidhreachta agus a cultúir Ghaelaigh mar aon leis na scéalta miotaseolaíochta lenar tógadh í agus a taithí mar bhean Éireannach i gcoitinne.

Eimear Nic Roibeaird is delighted to debut her solo exhibition An Chéad Bhean/The First Woman in the Gerard Dillion Gallery. An Chéad Bhean tells the story of Irish womanhood through paintings and written work based on the Cailleach figure. The Cailleach figure appears in Irish lore and heritage. The Cailleach is a character is based upon the villainous image giving to Irish woman who possessed unattainable power that neither Nationalism nor Christianity could possess. In this exhibition she will be depicted as the "wicked" Aoife, the venturous Cessair, the frightful Morrigan and the heroic Sadbh. Weaving together myth and realism, this narrative exhibition is a compelling body of work that has been developed by Nic Roibeaird the past 18 months. She is inspired by her Gael heritage and culture and the stories of Mythology she was raised with and her own experiences as an Irish woman.

Cultural Equality le Kevin Hamilton

Is féidir mí-úsáid a bhaint as cultúir thraidisúnta sa taobh seo tíre mar insint dhiúltach, agus mar dhóigh leis an lámh in uachtar a fháil ar an dream eile. Tá níos mó i gceist linne ná bratacha agus clocha colbha.
Tá áilleacht inmheánach bainte le gach cultúr cé go ndéantar neamhaird air seo in amanna. Chruthaigh foirgnimh agus láithreacha éagsúla ar nós Chaisleán Chnoc an Anfa, Mainistir Chluain Ard, Reilig Bhaile an Mhuilinn agus Páirc Windsor saothair thar a bheith suimiúil, siméadrach atá scartha ó na tréithe traidisiúnta a bhaineann leo. Tríd an rogha saothair seo, tá mé ag iarraidh tú a spreagadh le hamharc níos faide i gcéin ná an stair atá ag áiteanna agus sult agus tuiscint a bhaint as an áilleacht taobh istigh díobh.
Cuimsíonn mo shaothar píosaí ilathraitheacha arna spreagadh ag láithreacha agus sainchomharthaí tíre a n-aithnítear baint a bheith acu le cultúir amháin seachas a chéile, bunaithe ar na cultúir scartha anseo. Ag díriú an spotsolais ar áilleacht atá sofheicthe gach áit anseo, ach fios a bheith agat cá háit le hamharc, fíoráilleacht i ngach cultúr ar féidir sult a bhaint as gan réamhchlaonadh.

Traditional Cultures in this part of Ireland can often be abused and misused as a negative commentary, ‘a stick to beat the other side with.’ We are more than just flags and kerbstones.
All cultures have an intrinsic beauty within, which is often overlooked.
My new series of work I have focused on aspects of the built landscape which have traditionally been associated with one or the other side. Buildings and locations such as Stormont Castle, Clonard Monastery, Milltown cemetery and Windsor Park, created intriguing symmetrical compositions divorced from its previous traditional associations.
Through this selection of work, I want to encourage all to see beyond the history of a place and appreciate the beauty within.
My work is kaleidoscopic pieces drawn from locations and landmarks previously identified to be one or the other culture, from divided cultures here. Highlighting the beauty which is visible everywhere if you know how to look, a true beauty found in each culture which can be appreciated without prejudice.

Ag Fanacht ar Uimhir 12

Waiting for the Number 12
Noel Connor

Rugadh agus tógadh Noel Connor i mBaile Andarsan. Nuair a bhí sé óg, thaistil sé isteach agus amach as lár an bhaile ar bhus tralaí uimhir a 12. Cuireadh stad le seirbhís na mbusanna tralaí ar an 12 Bealtaine 1968. Don togra seo, d'aimsigh sé agus d'oibrigh sé leis an bhus a rinne an t-aistear deireanach sin suas Bóthar na bhFál agus a chuaigh thart le hEaglais Phreispitéireach an Bhealaigh Leathain, Cultúrlann an lae inniu. Ag baint úsáid as scannánaíocht, filíocht, grianghrafadóireacht, fiosraíonn Noel cad chuige a bhfuil uimhir a 12 ag imeacht ó Shráid an Chaisleáin a fhad le Páirc Mhic Ásmaint chomh glinn sin ina chuimhní cinn. Fiosraíonn sé fosta na himeachtaí a thit amach ar an bhus agus ina thimpeall agus an t-aistriú ó shoineantacht go réadúlacht na seascaidí malla i mBéal Feirste. Bhí a shamhlaíocht gafa ag castacht na línte cumhachta agus cáblaí a cheangail slite na mbusanna tralaí ó cheann ceann na cathrach agus aithníonn sé ní amháin a n-áilleacht shaoithiúil ach an suntas siombalach atá bainte leo mar shlite caillte ceanglais agus cumarsáide.

Noel Connor was born and raised in Andersonstown and as a child he would have travelled into and out of town on the number 12 trolley bus. Trolley buses were finally withdrawn from service on the 12th May 1968. For this project he has tracked down and worked directly with the actual bus which made that very last journey along the Falls Road, passing Broadway Presbyterian Church, now Cultúrlann. Using film, poetry and photography, Noel explores why the number 12 from Castle Street to Casement Park features so conspicuously in his memory, examining how events on and around it capture a transition from innocence into the realities of late 1960's Belfast. The complicated web of power lines and cables which once connected these trolley bus routes across the city also caught his imagination, recognizing not only their curious beauty, but their symbolic significance as lost lines of connection and communication.

Ionadú, Taispeántas Aonair Péintéireachta agus Déanamh Priontaí le Pamela de Brí

Bailiúchán saothar roghnaithe atá in Ionadú ina ndéantar machnamh ar agus a dtaifeadtar na hathruithe sóisialta agus déimeagrafacha i gceantair thuaithe na hÉireann. Déanann an t-ealaíontóir iniúchadh ar 'áit' mar théama - talamh, baile, suíomh, ionaid agus ionadú.

Tá daoine ag cur fúthu sa tír seo le níos mó ná 10,000 bliain. Déantar athrú agus dul chun cinn ar úsáid na talún mar a thagann athrú agus forbairt ar an tsochaí.

Tagann daoine agus imíonn daoine agus fágann siad comharthaí pearsanta, stairiúla agus cultúrtha ar an tírdhreach sa timpeallacht nádúrtha agus sa timpeallacht thógtha, - a chuireann leis an athrú ó bhonn ar léarscáil dhomhain na talún.

In Ionadú déantar iarracht na síor-athruithe in aistriú tuaithe na hÉireann a mhapáil agus a thaifeadadh.

Place, Exhibition of Painting and Printmaking by Pamela de Brí

The selected body of work in Re: Place takes a fresh look at and draws attention to social and demographic changes in rural Ireland. The artist explores themes of place – land, home, location, placing and replacing.

This land, inhabited for over 10,000 years, has changed and developed over time. People come and go and leave their personal, historical and cultural marks on the landscape in both the natural and developed environment, all adding to the metamorphosing deep map of the land.

Re: Place brings the different strands together, documenting these ever changing shifts in rural Ireland.
